I think you all are all aware that I want Trump to win the Presidency in 2024. He deserves to win; he is the best candidate, and he is the one to give us back our freedom and he is America first. Oh, I know, he says things that we don't think he should say. But he always tells us the truth and he certainly gives us transparency! Isn't that what we want?

Trump is the best bet for us to regain our stature on the world stage and he certainly is the best to make America great again.

We must not become discouraged by what is happening now. The most important thing for us to do is to vote and to encourage our friends and neighbors to vote. The only way we are going to win elections is by voting. Some people are discouraged and don't think their vote counts. But it does!! We have to get out the vote!

Soon we will be having the candidates for the 2024 election speaking at our meetings. We need to really vet the candidates and there is no better way than to hear them speak.

God bless America,

LaJuana Gillette President 2023

SPOTLIGHT MEMBER: VIRGINIA / GINNY BUCKALEW

My name is Virginia Buckalew but you probably know me as Ginny. I was born in Los Angeles Ca and lived there for 11 years until my parents moved us to Torrance CA. When I was 15 I met and started dating the local market box boy, Steve. We were married at the end of my junior year in high school and are celebrating 62 years of marriage this June. (I was voted most likely to divorce in my senior year yearbook!) We have 3 daughters who have given us 5 granddaughters and 2 grandsons. We now have 7 little great grand babies and who knows how many more will come!

In 1964 we were very involved in the Barry Goldwater election and had a headquarters for his campaign in our home— even though I was not old enough to vote. I walked the entire Angel Stadium working a Goldwater rally the night before my 2nd baby was born! We have been active in the Republican party ever since.

I worked for a couple of years in a travel agency and 7 years for Safeway. We were involved with Steve racing outboard boats until a couple of crashes and close disasters convinced him to stop. One of our race boats just surfaced on the bottom of Lake Mead since the lake is down over 180 feet. We opened a business building outboard race boats for others, many of which we sent all over the world. I delivered many of them throughout the USA and love driving cross country! This business allowed us some wonderful travel opportunities to Singapore and Thailand where we sent many boats.

We moved to Lake Havasu in 1993 when Steve retired from the Fire Department and we closed our boat business. We brought my parents with us and Mom and I got involved with Republican women. I love gardening which is a challenge after living in So Calif! I have to say that I miss the ocean as we were only one mile from the beach and I walked there every morning for years. We are involved in church and I always sang in choirs before the churches got rid of them. For many years I cooked dinner for 175 people at our church every Wednesday night.

In 2001 I was involved in starting Lake Havasu Decorative Artists and I have done a lot of acrylic and oil painting. I display many my favorite paintings in my dining room. I am hoping to get back to painting in the near future.

I have been on the Board of LBRW for many years as a member at large and then your President for 5 years. I also was on the Steering Committee for many years, working on the Lincoln Day Dinner, MCRCC Picnics and various other fundraisers and projects. I am now your Corresponding Secretary. I have been the Republican office manager and a PC for many years. I love being involved in this club and will continue to support our Republican party.

The Worst Political Scandal in American History?

By Ben Shapiro, May 17, 2023

This week, Special Counsel John Durham released a 316-page report detailing the origins of Operation Crossfire Hurricane – the FBI's investigation into supposed connections between the Trump campaign and the Russian government. The report is an astounding expose of corruption and collusion – not between Trump and Russia, but between the Hillary Clinton campaign, friends at the FBI and top officials at the Obama administration. As it turns out, Crossfire Hurricane was initiated based on sheer conjecture. That conjecture was trafficked by Hillary's 2016 campaign. And that conjecture served as the basis for a four-year-long witch hunt into a bevy of allegations that ultimately came to nothing.

The story began, Durham reports, in late July 2016, when Australia provided information to the U.S. embassy in London surrounding conversations between Australian diplomats and low-level Trump foreign policy adviser George Papadopoulos, in which Papadopoulos had allegedly suggested that the "Trump team had received some kind of suggestion from Russia that it could assist" in the process of releasing information about Hillary Clinton. This information alone was utilized as the predicate for launching the full-blown Trump-Russia investigation within three days after receipt of the flimsy information. Top FBI officials greenlit the investigation, including Peter Strzok, deputy assistant director of counterintelligence and devoted Trump-hater. The investigation, Durham notes, was launched "before any dialogue with Australia or the Intelligence Community, and prior to any critical analysis of the information itself."

What could have prompted this eagerness? The FBI, as Durham acknowledges, was already in possession of the so-called Steele Dossier, a compendium of lies and innuendo created by Fusion GPS at the behest of the Clinton campaign. The FBI had also been approached by a second source working with Fusion GPS in July 2016. There appears to have been a push for an investigation prompted by the desires of the Clinton campaign and the perceived necessity of stopping Trump. The FBI's Assistant Legal Attache in London knew the Papadopoulos information was thin but told the Office of the Inspector General that FBI management was "pushing the matter so hard that 'there was no stopping the train,'" making it his job to "grease the skids."

Meanwhile, in July 2016, U.S. intelligence agencies found out about Russian intelligence suggesting that Hillary had approved a campaign plan to gin up allegations of Trump-Russia collusion. On Aug. 3, CIA Director John Brennan "met with the President, Vice President and other senior Administration officials, including but not limited to the Attorney General (who participated remotely) and the FBI Director" and briefed them on the so-called Clinton Plan. Nobody decided to put a hold on the Trump-Russia investigation, despite the relevant fact that all involved now knew of allegations that the entire situation had been drummed up by the Clinton campaign.

And so, in short, we now know that top officials at the White House and the FBI were aware of Hillary Clinton's plan to disseminate information falsely claiming Trump-Russia collusion; the FBI knew full well that the intelligence it had making such accusations was flimsy at best; they all went ahead anyway. For the rest of the election cycle and much of Trump's presidency, the Democrats, media and intelligence community continued to parrot the Trump-Russia collusion lie.

This collusion is significantly worse than Watergate. It involves the former secretary of state and Democratic candidate for president laundering false intelligence information to the FBI; and the FBI, overseen by the candidate's political allies in the Obama administration, using that information as the predicate to open a full-scale investigation knowing full well that the Clinton campaign could well be behind the allegations in the first place.

This is patently insane. It destroys any semblance of legitimacy in the FBI. It implicates former President Barack Obama, President Joe Biden, James Clapper, John Brennan and a bevy of other high officials in weaponization of the government to stop Donald Trump. The Russia hoax was much more than a hoax, it turns out. It was a nefarious plan, enacted at the highest levels of government, to corrupt an election and undermine a presidency.

I found this on Kelli Wards Facebook page. It is her mother and Mike's mother on the couch with Kelli and Mike reflecting in the mirror. I was taken at "The last great Christmas party" at the White House in 2019. Keli gave me permission to print it in our Right Report. Amazing Photo!!!
