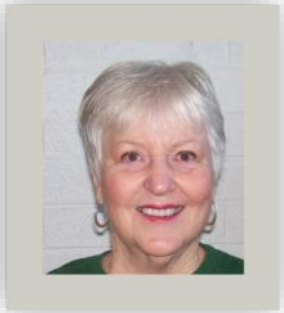
President-Ginny Buckalew



Dear Members and Friends,

I can't believe the year is already half over and it is time for our Country's 250th Birthday Celebration! I hope to see a crowd at our meeting again this month as we host the Republican City Council candidates and honor our wonderful USA. Thank you to all who attended our June meeting. We set a record with 182 persons in attendance.

Five of our members attended the AzFRW Winter Meeting in Tempe the beginning of June. We all were busy going from one session to the next getting new ideas and being reminded of the things we need to do for our club to help it grow and become more effective in our community and state. Again, we were reminded about getting out the vote. Everyone has to push their friends and family to go and vote. It is the only way we can beat the cheating Democrats with their ballot harvesting and other shenanigans! If you know someone who gets a mail in ballot, have them take it to the Library at early voting and take it through the line to get it verified. Do not just drop it in the box. This insures that it will be counted.

Have a great 4th of July with family and friends. I will see you on the 6th.

President Ginny Buckalew

From your Editor, Ellen Albert

The City Council members are 6 of the 7 votes that make decisions that actually can have an effect on our lives as residents of this fabulous little landlocked town we lovingly call Havasu.

As members of LBRW, you and your friends, are being given an opportunity to come to our July 6 meeting and hear the candidates first hand. My guess is you will learn some things that will help you make a rational and wise decision on which box you want to mark with an X. You will get to choose three.

We're not going to ask the same ol tired questions. If you have a 'really good' question, please call/text Lynne Lawhorn at 909 721-0044. She will compile a list and choose 10.

The mail-in ballot will arrive soon. PLEASE don't be in a hurry to mark and send in your ballot right away. First, come and listen carefully to the candidates. Then decide.

It is not uncommon for the speakers to arrive early, which gives you the opportunity to tap them on the shoulder and speak with them personally. A nice folksy chat oftentimes reveals a lot about a person.

Make your reservation and come enjoy an evening with a room full of Republicans.

All winners will be published in the LBRW newsletter, "The Right Report."

Spotlight members – Evelyn & Neil tinsley

Family, faith, hard work, and community have always been at the center of our lives. As parents of six amazing children, we strive every day to lead by example and show them that with determination, integrity, and a strong work ethic, anything you set your mind to is possible.

One of our favorite times of the day is sitting down together for dinner, sharing stories, laughing, and enjoying time as a family. In a busy world, those moments together mean everything to us.

Over the years, we have built and operated two local businesses, Lakeside Towing and Clean Concepts, through hard work, perseverance, and a commitment to serving our community. Being small business owners has taught us the value of responsibility, accountability, and treating people the way we would want to be treated.

Evelyn currently serves on the Lake Havasu Unified School District Governing Board, and Neil is running for Lake Havasu City Council. Public service is important to both of us because we believe strong communities are built by people who are willing to step up, get involved, and make a difference.

We are proud lifelong Republicans, proud parents, and proud members of the Lake Havasu community. We feel truly blessed to call Lake Havasu home and look forward to continuing to serve and give back to the community that has given so much to our family.

Senior Citizens

Senior citizens are constantly being criticized for every conceivable deficiency of the modern world, real or imaginary. We know we take responsibility for all we have done and do not try to blame others.

HOWEVER, upon reflection, we would like to point out that it was NOT senior citizens who took:

The melody out of music,

Th pride out of appearance,

The courtesy out of driving,

The romance out of love,

The commitment out of marriage,

The responsibility out of parenthood,

The togetherness out of the family,

The learning out of education,

The Golden Rule from the rulers,

The nativity out of cities,

The civility out of behavior,

The refinement out of language,

The dedication out of employment,

The prudence out of spending,

The ambition out of achievement.

And we certainly are NOT the ones who eliminated patience and tolerance from personal relationships and interactions with others!

And we DO understand the meaning of patriotism and remember those who have fought and died for our country.

Council Corner by David Diaz, Vice Mayor .....brief recap

Budget. The majority of the City Council voted to approve both the 5 year CIP (capital Improvement Plan) budget and the LHC 2026/27 Operational Budget. The City Council will formally vote to adopt both at our next meeting in June. The budgets will be implemented on July 1, 2026.

Acoma. Milling and paving is continuing this week. The ongoing water main and lateral replacement work on the north end of Acoma is going very well. The tentative completion date for the entire project is August.

Station 7. A guaranteed maximum price contract was approved by the Council at our first meeting in June. This is a huge step in the project, providing us with the certainty we need to begin the construction phase of the project. This allows construction to commence within 60 days.

2nd Bridge. We are making great progress on the project. The City's work is nearly complete, as we near the final design. We will be there in a few months. Our continued efforts to work with our outside agencies are steadily moving forward, although much, much slower than we would want. We met this week with Coast Guard, Arizona State Parks and the National Parks Service. Our next goal is to receive a letter from the National Parks Service, which they indicated is a strong possibility at this week's meeting. We are getting there.

Trees in the Downtown. The city's Parks Maintenance crews have been in the downtown area planting palm trees where trees were previously removed. We will also start the process of replacing the existing mesquite trees with palm trees, as well as trimming and skinning our existing palm trees. The result should provide a better aesthetic in the downtown area and create less landscape mess for our downtown business owners.

Ballfield Lights. Work has been completed on the replacement of lights at the ballfields at SARA Park. The work went incredibly efficiently, as the contractor finished fields one and two at SARA Park. The contractor also finished fields three and four at SARA Park. The ballfields at Rotary Park have been completed as well with all new lighting.

Shoreline Protection. The proposed change in language to the City Code for the zoning classification for the Body Beach zoning classification went before the Planning and Zoning Commission in June and will be before the City Council in July. The proposed language would require a 75 foot buffer, at a minimum, between the shoreline and any future development.

Summer Camp. We have more than 360 kids registered for Summer Camp at three school sites. We still have room to accommodate more kids at all three school sites and we will continue to reach out to our families in Havasu so they are aware of this opportunity. The three school sites are Nautilus, Oro Grande, and Smoketree.

Rotary Park Improvements. The City received a nearly $1 million SLIF grant last year for infrastructure upgrades, new restrooms, improved sidewalks, and a new parking lot at Rotary Park. We are nearly done with the design and hope to go out to bid in the next six weeks. We will bring a contract to Council for its consideration shortly after the bids are evaluated.

Construction Activity.

- Swanson Apartment Complex (64 units) at 2160 Swanson Ave. The phasing plan was received to finalize Building A (closest to Swanson) prior to completing Building B. Final inspections for Building A are anticipated within the next several months.

Hilltop Community Church at 3180 McCulloch Blvd North. A plan submittal was received for a new 9,600-sq-ft sanctuary and a 7,475-sq-ft children's center.

Paradyme Gym and Parking Structure at 60 Retail Centre Blvd. The second plan review submittal was received, and it is currently under review.

- Great Harvest Bread Company at 1060 Acoma Blvd South. The second pre-application meeting was completed. The project continues to progress in design.

O'Reilly Auto Parts at 3210 Oro Grande Blvd. The design review for the new 7,228-sq-ft commercial building was completed. We are awaiting resubmittal.

The LHC City Council is always available to answer any questions you may have.

David V. Diaz

YOUR FREEDONS Vs DEMOCRAT CONTROL: THE 2026 MIDTERMS WILL DECIDE AMERICAS FURURE

Joseph Ford Cotto June 20, 2026

President Donald J. Trump marked the 800th anniversary of Magna Carta this month, a momentous occasion which went virtually unnoticed.

That is a true pity.

In Magna Carta, we find the timeless principles that shaped our nation's foundation. Signed on June 15, 1215, at England's Runnymede, this charter stood as one of the first bold limits on unchecked government power. The text came to pass when feudal barons, the forerunners of modern elected representatives, demanded limits upon King John's executive authority.

Magna Carta declared that justice must be equal and impartial, that no free person could be deprived of rights without the lawful judgment of peers, that taxes required consent, and that even kings must answer to a higher law. Centuries later, these ideas crossed the Atlantic and inspired our Founding Fathers in Philadelphia. Their embrace of a fusion between Anglo-Saxon ordered liberty and Enlightenment rationalism would create something unlike any other.

They built a republic where liberty, consent of the governed, and rule of law would lift ordinary citizens to extraordinary heights, creating the world's greatest superpower.

Yet today, the Democrat party has turned its back on that proud history. Instead of protecting individual rights and limited government, it pushes policies that concentrate power, erode accountability, and treat citizens' freedoms as privileges.

This stark contrast deserves a central place in the minds of Republican voters heading into these pivotal midterms.

With Trump delivering real results that restore strength and opportunity, the choice before us could not be clearer. A Democrat victory would mean two years of obstruction aimed at undermining his administration's progress, dragging the country into decline.

Consider the heart of Magna Carta: the idea that even the mightiest must submit to impartial justice. Our judicial system, shaped by this legacy, has long served as a vital check against arbitrary rule.

Today's Democrats, however, repeatedly advocate packing the Supreme Court with additional justices to force partisan outcomes and overturn decisions they dislike. Such moves threaten the independence that has guarded liberty for generations.

Democrats treat the highest court as a political prize rather than a guardian of enduring law. They echo the very abuses the barons at Runnymede sought to end, concentrating power to serve partisan majorities instead of equal justice for all. This approach vanquishes public trust and turns the "law of the land" into an unchecked tool of partisans.

On another note, Magna Carta insisted that authority must stay within fixed bounds, protecting people from undue interference. Modern Democrat governance has instead fueled a vast administrative state where unelected bureaucrats issue binding rules on everything from energy use to daily business.

This usurpation of lawmaking power bypasses elected officials and the voters they represent, creating a web of regulations that strangleholds ordinary Americans. It revives the arbitrary exercises of power that Magna Carta rejected, placing rights at the mercy of distant officials insulated from voters. The result is less freedom, slower growth, and a government that views personal liberty as something it can grant or revoke on a whim.

Fiscal policy reveals another deep break. Magna Carta famously barred the king from imposing taxes without the people's agreement. This embedded the principle that government must remain accountable and restrained.

Democrats today advance sweeping tax-and-spend plans that raise burdens on families, workers, and businesses to finance ever-larger bureaucracy. These efforts often rely on procedural shortcuts that limit real debate, treating taxpayer dollars as an unlimited resource for central planners.

Such policies invert the consent-based restraint Magna Carta championed, fostering dependency while shrinking the private economy that built American prosperity. They position Washington as the ultimate decider of economic fate rather than a servant of free citizens pursuing their own dreams.

Election integrity stands as yet another pillar under pressure. Our system of self-government draws from Magna Carta's emphasis on lawful processes rooted in the people's will.

Yet Democrat pushes to nationalize elections through measures like H.R. 4 aim to override state authority, weaken voter safeguards, and impose one-size-fits-all rules from the capital. This centralization destroys local accountability, cripples efforts to maintain accurate rolls, and opens the door for voter fraud.

It undermines the peer judgment and representative consent that Magna Carta helped inspire. Decentralized protections are replaced with mandates that favor bureaucratic control over transparent, citizen-driven democracy. When states lose the ability to secure their own ballots, the people's voice grows fainter.

Due process is the shield against selective or unfair deprivation of rights. It faces similar strain. Magna Carta promised that no free man would lose liberty except through consistent, impartial judgment.

Democrat approaches in areas such as immigration enforcement, regulatory actions, and selective prosecutions often blur these lines, applying rules unevenly based on politics. This reduces justice to a blue sledgehammer rather than a fixed standard. It weakens the protections that prevent Uncle Sam from targeting opponents or favoring allies. That moves us away from the impartiality that allowed America to thrive as a beacon of individualism.

When rights become contingent on who holds power, liberty itself vanishes.

In sharp relief, Trump's America First agenda is proving that the old principles still deliver results. Since returning to office, his administration has cut bureaucracy, enforced immigration law, and unleashed economic vitality. Food stamp rolls have dropped by more than 4.3 million as work requirements return and benefits focus on American citizens who need them most.

Foreign student enrollment has fallen 20 percent, opening college spots for young Americans. Major health insurers, responding to Trump's pressure, have slashed prior authorization red tape by 11 percent overall. That frees millions of procedures from needless delays.

Job growth continues strong, with 172,000 added in May alone. Manufacturing is expanding at its fastest pace in four years, construction booms, and small businesses are hiring again. Government employment has declined for 17 straight months while private-sector opportunities rise. Housing costs are easing in many areas thanks to reduced illegal immigration and visa abuses that had inflated demand.

Prescription drug prices are actually falling, with Trump's initiatives projected to save half a trillion dollars over the next decade. Steel imports have plunged 30 percent while domestic production surges, putting American workers ahead of foreign competitors.

These are not abstract promises but tangible gains restoring affordability, security, and pride.

The alternative vision from today's Democrats points toward managed decline: heavier regulation, open borders that import the third world, higher taxes that punish success, and centralized control that eradicates individual initiative.

Such policies invite the very malaise, contraction, and lost opportunity that millions of migrants flee when they leave failing societies. Expanded government means less real control over our own lives, fewer economic ladders, and standards of living that decline. History shows that nations which abandon limited government and public consent drift toward poverty and tyranny.

Republican voters must recognize these midterms as a defining moment.

With Trump advancing concrete wins that honor our founding ideals, the stakes are high. A Democrat Congress would work to block, delay, and sabotage the remaining years of his administration. Hard-earned progress would be reversed, entrenching the very trends that contradict Magna Carta's legacy.

The choice is ours: renew the spirit of liberty that made America exceptional, or watch her collapse under policies that pull toward perdition. (noun. In Christian theology, a state of eternal punishment and damnation into which a sinful and unpenitent person passes after death)
