Welcome to 2026! Wow! It seems like the years just go flying by and here we are in another election season. I am looking forward to helping lead our membership by bringing us candidates and information on the very important issues that face our state and our nation. Again—we say this is the most important election in our lifetimes and that is more true each year as we see the decline of our freedom and our culture. In order for President Trump to continue to make us safer, more secure, and great again, we have to build our majority in the Senate and Congress. We have to take back our wonderful state and return all of the leadership positions to the Republicans. We have to fire our Senators, Mark Kelly and Ruben Gallego, our Governor Katie Hobbs and our Secretary of State Adrian Fontes. In this mid year election we have to work harder than ever to see that our registered Republicans and conservative Independents vote! Four years ago less than 40% of registered voters turned out at the polls. This is our battle cry for next November and we all can be involved by reminding our friends and relatives why it is so important to make your voices heard.

I am here to support all of you and our great London Bridge Republican Women. We will be looking for help with some committees and once a year positions and I would love to talk to you if you have the desire to participate with us. You can reach me by phone at 928-232-0240. Thank you for the opportunity to serve you all!

3RD VICE
PRES. MEMBERSHIP

Happy New Year! 2026! And with this new year comes changes to our club. Sadly, Stephanie Michels has stepped down as the membership chair. We are all going to miss her! But it's fortunate for me because I am now the new chair and I couldn't be happier! That being said, if you are already a member or have just joined LBRW, thank you and we welcome you! If you haven't renewed for the new year or you would like to join our club, please come see me at the January meeting. We take cash or check or you can mail your membership application to: P.O. Box 2072, LHC, AZ 86405-2072. Stay tuned for some fun contests and interesting membership events in the coming months. It's going to be a great year at LBRW!

An Evening With Scott Jennings

Author • CNN Senior Political Contributor • National Conservative Voice

Join us for a powerhouse night of insight, conversation, and exclusive access as Scott Jennings comes to Laughlin for one special event featuring his new book, A Revolution of Common Sense: How Donald Trump Stormed Washington and Fought for Western Civilization.

Jennings is one of America's most recognized conservative commentators — seen nightly on CNN, heard across the country on the Salem Radio Network, and known for his sharp, unapologetic, “say-what-everyone-else-is-thinking” analysis. His political career spans the White House, multiple presidential races, and decades inside the highest levels of Republican strategy.

This is your chance to meet him, hear behind-the-scenes stories, get your book signed, and connect with fellow politicians for an energizing evening you won't forget.

THE J6ERS REMEMBERED AGAIN

My dear sister

I wish to share with you the following original poem, written by a dear lady named Geri Perna. She is the Aunt of the late Matthew Perna, a gentle soul taken from us by the tyranny of the DOJ/FBI cabal. I would humbly ask that you remember all the J6ers in your prayers and share this poem as you see fit.

Your bro

Tom Caldwell

Thomas Caldwell LCDR USN (Ret.)

P.O. Box 1120 Berryville, VA 22611

Christmas Season Poem by Geri Perna.

T'was weeks before Christmas, in the month of December, the J6ers waited for justice. Will anyone remember?

No one's been arrested for the damage they've done.

Will there ever be justice, or have those responsible won?

It's been four years of struggling, to hold it together.

How much longer must we wait? It's taking forever!

We've seen no arrests; they seem to laugh in our faces.

Will the day ever come, when the guilty trade places?

The videos and files lay hidden away.

Will the truth of Jan 6 ever see the light of day?

The expectations were high when this year had begun, pardons were plentiful, we thought we had won.

But then there was silence, and the excitement had ended, immediate actions were obviously suspended.

So, Santa is preparing for his annual jaunt.

Will he remember the J6ers or has he, too, forgot?

Will the criminals continue to fly free as a bird,
while the people in power speak not even a word?

No perp walks, no house raids, no arrests in the night,
no jail time, no bankruptcies, NO JUSTICE IN SIGHT!!!

Santa we love you, but there's not much you can do.

Our hope is in God, not in man, this is true.

If a blind eye is turned and justice is not served,

someday ALL will get GOD'S justice,

AND IT WILL BE JUSTICE DESERVED!

By Geri Perna (In memory of the late Matthew Perna)

SPOTLIGHT MEMBER — PENNY ROELOFS

I was born in Pennsylvania but mostly grew up in Palos Verdes, CA. I lived there until my sophomore year of high school when I moved to Grand Junction, CO with my mom and two older brothers. I returned to California when I turned 18, which was in the middle of my senior year of high school. I just couldn't wait to get back to California. Colorado was not for me!

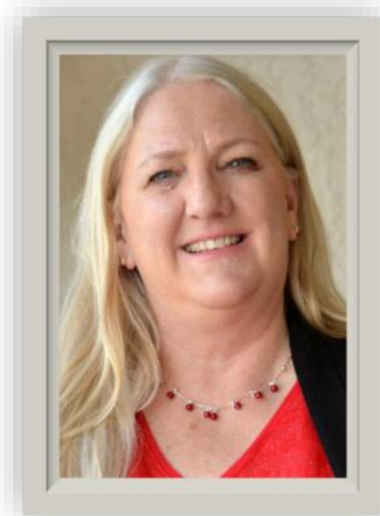

I got married in 1989 and had 2 children. A son in 1991 and a daughter in 1994. I was mostly a stay-at-home wife and mother during my marriage and did a lot of volunteer work. I was the room mom, PTA VP, Boy Scout leader, Indian Maiden (with my daughter), Sunday School teacher, and Box Top Coordinator. I had a blast volunteering and being involved in my children's school life. Unfortunately, my marriage didn't survive and we divorced after 21 years of marriage.

But then I met Alexander Peter Roelofs in 2016 and the rest is history! We got married in 2019, just before Covid hit full force! Lucky me for a second chance at love!!

Alex and I lived in Seal Beach, CA after we were married and we really loved it there. Such a sweet little beach town! Unfortunately, Covid changed things pretty drastically there and the political climate and culture became an unbearable place for a pair of Conservative Christian Republicans. Alex was due to retire from the Navy so we started looking around for a place to retire and found Lake Havasu City. After visiting, I was sure this was where we should be. Alex agreed so we began to plan our escape from California! We succeeded with our plan and officially moved here in February 2022.

My husband, Alex, found a job at Allo Fiber Communications in the front office on Main st/McCullogh. I was working at the library but quit to care for an ailing family member. I am currently not working. So that is why I decided to take on the Membership chair position for our club for 2026/2027. I am so excited to be a part of this wonderful club and I can't wait to get started!

So, that's me in a nutshell.

Secretary.

Following is a brief update of current happenings with regards to Lake Havasu City and your City Council:

Waterfront at Lake Havasu. This is the 91 acres on the Island that includes the old Nautical Golf Course. This parcel was sold at auction by Arizona State Land Trust back in 2023. The winning bidder is a company named Falconeye Development. They are requesting a major amendment to our LHC 2016 General Plan. This requires a minimum super majority (5-2) vote by the City Council. This will be heard by the Council this month

Construction Activity. We are seeing activity in Development Services Department for several design review, building permits and preliminary plat applications. Some of the projects of note, include:

Broken Yoke - Tenant Improvement - 440 El Camino Way - In plan review.

Billiards and Restaurant - Tenant Improvement - 2180 McCulloch Blvd N. - In plan review.

Havasu Regional Medical Center Tenant Improvement to the Sterilization Unit - In plan review.

Panera Bread - New Construction - 1780 McCulloch Blvd N. - Pre-application meeting set. City is having discussions with their design team

M on the Lake - New Construction - Multi-story apartment building (3-story, 65 units, 111,000sf) - 120 Park Ave. - Permits issued and has been sitting for awhile, but they are starting framing, per the owner.

Mixed-Use Building - New Construction - Commercial space on 1st floor with 2 levels of multi-family above (3-story, 26 units, 45,000sf (5800 retail, 33,000 residential, 6600 parking) - 115 Park Ave - In plan review.

Paradyne Barn Caves. New Construction - The Shops - 93 lots (38' x 87', 3-foot setbacks) - Preliminary plat application received.

Bonfire Kitchen - New Construction - 2067 Havasu Riviera Parkway (in Riviera) - Fire Sprinkler and Alarm submittal received and it's in plan review. This is on State land, so no building permit is issued by the City. Only fire permit.

Annual Planning Session. Our Annual City Council Planning Session is scheduled for January 22, 2026. This is our yearly day long session where we start initial needs discussions for the fiscal year 2026/27 City budget and CIP (Capital Improvement Plan).

Again, the LHC City Council is here to serve you, the residents of our great city. Wishing everyone a Happy New Year. Looking forward to a great 2026

David V. Diaz - Vice Mayor

Theodore Roosevelt's ideas on Immigrants and being an AMERICAN in 1907.

Theodore Roosevelt

"In the first place, we should insist that if the immigrant who comes here in good faith becomes an American and assimilates himself to us, he shall be treated on an exact equality with everyone else, for it is an outrage to discriminate against any such man because of creed, or birthplace, or origin. But this is predicated upon the person's becoming in every facet an American, and nothing but an American...There can be no divided allegiance here. Any man who says he is an American, but something else also, isn't an American at all. We have room for but one flag, the American flag... We have room for but one language here, and that is the English language... and we have room for but one sole loyalty and that is a loyalty to the American people."

December 12, 2025 Five Solutions to the Affordability Crisis

By Chris Talgo

The current political buzz term is affordability crisis. Every day, political pundits and politicians talk about the affordability crisis because they know it represents an existential threat to the American dream.

The affordability crisis faced by tens of millions of Americans is more than a political slogan; it is a visceral struggle that causes chronic stress and anxiety, breeds hopelessness and apathy, begets envy and rage, and sows disillusionment and nihilism.

In other words, the affordability crisis that is making it impossible for hard-working Americans to get ahead is untenable. If it is not solved holistically, it will likely foster social chaos that could result in radical socio-economic changes like the implementation of American socialism.

The time for political posturing and pontificating is over. Americans need viable solutions to the cost-of-living crisis before it is too late. Below are five simple solutions that are intended to address the root causes of the affordability crisis.

Government Spending

The fundamental driver of inflation that is crushing the lower- and middle-classes and has warped the overall economy is out-of-control spending by the federal government. The national government spends, prints, and borrows trillions of dollars each year, which devalues the currency and creates asset bubbles that are advantageous to the rich.

It is incumbent that Congress cut spending back to pre-pandemic levels, balance the budget, and institute long-term reforms for insolvent entitlement programs.

Housing Supply

Real estate agents say it's all about location whereas economists would say it's all about supply.

Clearly, the U.S. housing market is suffering from a supply shortage. The reasons for the lack of supply are varied: a huge increase in immigration under President Biden, decades of onerous environmental regulations, restrictive zoning rules, high property taxes, burdensome building codes, rent freezes, big banks buying single-family homes and turning them into rental properties, etc.

Incentivizing the construction of single-family homes is the obvious solution to the problem. Therefore, it would behoove governments at all levels in all states and cities to take prudent measures to incentivize home-building by decreasing red tape, easing regulations, and lowering property taxes.

Energy

Like it or not, abundant and reliable energy is essential to affordability because energy is the mother's milk to modern life. Energy impacts the cost of every activity and economic transaction.

When the cost of energy is artificially increased due to government intervention, all Americans suffer, especially those at the lower end of the economic ladder. Wealthy Americans may get annoyed when a gallon of gas increases or their electricity bills balloon, but hard-working Americans are hit much harder when politicians play energy politics.

Bringing down the cost of energy by eliminating subsidies and mandates for expensive, unreliable, and unclean green energy at both the federal and state levels coupled with a drive to unleash affordable, reliable, and clean energy sources like natural gas would help alleviate the cost-of-living crisis.

Embrace Entrepreneurship and Nurture Innovation

Historically, America has been the land of opportunity because its economy was an incubator for entrepreneurship and innovation. Today, this is not the case.

Today, the barriers for entry into many markets are simply too high for entrepreneurs and small businesses to overcome. The economy, for lack of a better word, is rigged in favor of big businesses that have powerful connections, legions of lobbyists and lawyers, and politicians in their pockets. This rotten, sclerotic crony capitalist system is more akin to European serfdom than the American experiment. However, it can be reformed.

Maybe it's time to consider a new era of anti-trust legislation to break up industry-wide cartels that bully small businesses and deter open, fair competition. I think it is more than past time to loosen the regulatory labyrinth that big businesses have erected at all levels of government to prohibit start-ups. The same should apply to the maze of licensing requirements and other barriers that individuals face when they are just trying to get a business up and running. Create opportunity zones that over time will rekindle upward mobility.

Health Care

Like education, the cost of health care has far outpaced inflation. Although most blame the exorbitant cost of health care on greedy corporations, the real culprit is government intervention.

As government has become more embedded in health care spending and decisions, the cost of care has skyrocketed, and the quality of care has plummeted.

The solution is putting Americans, not government, at the center of the health care decision-making process via programs like health ownership accounts, direct primary agreements, and many more consumer-driven ideas.

In a perfect world, Americans would buy health insurance like they buy auto insurance. It would be portable, not tied to one's job, not a one-size-fits-all policy, tailored to the unique needs and circumstances of individuals/families, etc.

Perhaps we should allow people who are young and healthy to purchase policies that take into account their lower risk factors. Maybe we should tie premiums to one's health habits. There are countless ways to insert free-market forces, what some call the invisible hand, which would restore price signals and reintroduce the laws of supply and demand into health care. Doing this would significantly reduce the cost of health care and put more money in Americans' wallets.

As history shows, when the masses think the system is rigged, they almost always reach a breaking point and demand revolution.

Thankfully, we have not reached this ominous point yet. However, it would be foolish to believe that the status quo is tenable.

The affordability crisis will likely worsen if current trends continue and political leaders refuse to address the root causes. This is not a partisan issue. It is the most important issue facing America as we prepare to celebrate the nation's 250th birthday.
