As I look back on this year, I am most thankful that it is nearly over. What a ride it has been! With the January 6, 2025 Vote Certification on the horizon I continue to pray that nothing happens to cause chaos. On that note, I was so glad to hear that President Elect Donald Trump intends to pardon the Jan. 6, 2021 protest participants that are still in prison. With that, I am hopeful our country can put that and all the other craziness behind us to get started on a new era. One that takes us back to what our founders intended. One of order, healing the divisions among citizens, cutting government waste, much like Venezuela is now doing. Watching them get back to an honest way of government gives one hope for our great nation. The next few years will continue to be historic, hopefully in a good way.

I am still thankful for all those that gave of their time to help bring Mr. Trump back to the White House. Though we have mourned the last four years of the present administration, I think the absence of Trump from the White House was a good thing in the long run. It gave him time to formulate what he'd do if given another chance at leading our nation and to round up a team of like-minded patriots to help advise him on bringing order to our land again. It gave voters a chance to see the truth about the Left, wake up, and vote, some for the first time ever, for the sane choice. It gave proof to each of us how important it is to be involved in our community and country, by going to rallies, working the polls and encouraging others to vote (Republican, of course).

We saw many Liberal or Libertarians vote Republican, simply because they realized it more closely lined up with their values and beliefs. We saw many of those same people change from whatever party affiliation they had prior to this election to Republican and vote their conscience.

It is amazing to see citizens from around the world so happy to see that Trump was victorious in this election. They know what many of our own citizens do not, that without the Constitutional America we all grew up in there is no remaining hope for freedom in this world.

Let us continue to be vigilant about our changing times and on our knees before God to gain His favor for our precious country. With one year behind me as your president, and a new one in front of me, I want to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and join you in looking forward to a Happy New Year! See you in 2025!

SPOTLIGHT MEMBER – VIRGINIA TAYLOR

I was born in Inglewood, CA Aug. 3, 1936. We lived in Southwest Los Angeles until I was 12.

We moved to Gardena, CA, where my father worked for Goodyear. It was like moving to the country at that time. Gardena Junior High and High School were combined at that time. It was a fun time for me. I learned Folk Dancing, and our group put on shows for different organizations. I was voted in to be a cheerleader for the football team; however, we had to move back to SW LA at that time. I Graduated from George Washington High in 1954.

My first job was at City Hall in LA with Building & Safety Dept. I took a Streetcar and Bus to get to work. I was in the typing pool, typing on manual typewriters making 12 copies using carbon paper. (We've come a long way since then). I hated the new electric typewriter, until I got used to it.

I married in 1955 to Bill a young man I met on the Cyclone Roller Coaster in Long Beach. My cousin and I loved to ride in the front seat. Bill and his friend (just returned from Korea) they were in the front seat for 11 rides; finally we switched seats with them. Yah!! We were married 5 yrs. and divorced. We had a son David.

I married Orville Taylor in 1965; we were married 42 years when he passed away in 2007. We had a son James. We lived in Torrance, CA, had a second home in Big Bear, CA. Lots of good times were had there. I worked for California S & L retired as a Vice Pres. I managed 5 different offices over my 30 yrs. Orville worked for Hughes Aircraft. When we retired Orville bought a Harley, he loved riding. This was a new experience for me. I did ride a Honda 90 in Big Bear, but a Harley WOW. We had friends & family that lived in Lake Havasu. We built a home in Lakeridge Estates in 1998. I wouldn't live anywhere else.

My life has been wonderful. Orville (he was called OT) people would ask what OT stood for he would tell them On Top!! Our years were full of fun times, camping with our boys, traveling to Kansas to the farm life OT came from. It was a great experience for David and Jim. OT loved to hunt, he went hunting, and I went to Europe with girlfriends. He consented to two cruises, Barefoot Cruise to the Caribbean, and Alaska 1994.

I have continued to travel with my traveling friends and have visited 28 countries on many cruises. I played golf in Jamaica, Cozumel, traveled thru Egypt.

My fun time now is spent, playing Bridge and many other games at my clubhouse, golfing, singing Karaoke, Line dancing, I love traveling with Bartlett Tours. I belong to LBRW, CWC, QBQ golf league, and attend Calvary Baptist Church.

I have been blessed with Good Health, 2 loving sons, 5 grandchildren, 3 great grandchildren, and many wonderful friends and family.

Satanic 'holiday' display set up in Minnesota state capitol building

By Eric Utter

Satanists have set up a 'holiday' display at the Minnesota Capitol Building.

Though the Satanic Temple set up altars to Baphomet at the Iowa and Michigan capitals last year, this anti-Christian religious display seems most suited to Tim Walz's Minnesota.

As per usual, the TST tweet touting the display ended with "Hail Satan!"

Chestnuts roasting over an open fire, Jack Frost nipping at your nose. Sleigh rides, caroling, eggnog, The excitement in children's eyes as they unwrap a gift chant "Hail Satan" with their families. (♪ It's the most wonderful time of the year! ♪)

It is likely that the majority of Minnesotans, if informed of the Capitol display, would simply shrug and say, "We have religious freedom in this country. Remember the First Amendment."

Which is — or should be — true on its face, but what happened to progressives' treasured notion of separation of church and state? (I do not believe that, say, the Ten Commandments are currently on display in many states' capitol buildings.)

More to the point, every idea, action, belief, and religion is not equal. Nor necessarily suitable for display in a state capital. The 'satanic' faith is not a faith at all as the news report above notes, its adherents don't actually believe in Satan. So it's not a faith at all. It's an anti-faith, completely dependent on other peoples' religions, and exists solely to mock them. That makes it different in kind, not degree, from other faiths. The Constitution guarantees freedom of religion, but it says nothing about anti-religion.

And it isn't appropriate. Pooping is not illegal, and no one wants it to be, but it is generally frowned upon when done in public. (Except, perhaps, in California and New York City.) Nudity is not a bad thing per se, as no one should be inherently ashamed of the body they were given, but it is generally illegal to be naked in the public square.

Because sometimes morality comes into play. Or should. It's a hell of a thing, right? Subjective? Maybe, but the world would be a dark and deadly place without it.

We are sinners all. But sinning should not be encouraged and celebrated, let alone worshipped. However, thank the Lord, it may be redeemed. Indeed, that is what this season is all about.

To many of us, for various reasons, the 'Land of 10,000 Lakes' appears to be going to Hell.

But that's no reason to put up shrines to the Prince of Darkness.

Liz Cheney accused of witness tampering in Congressional report, with case made for criminal charges

By Monica Showalter

Is Miss Piggy about to get her comeuppance?

Could be, now that a Congressional panel has released its Jan. 6 report, stating that Cheney had engaged in witness-tampering; illegally counseling former low-level Trump White House aide Cassidy Hutchinson to change her testimony for the purpose of Getting Trump.

According to the New York Post:

WASHINGTON — A House Republican-led panel on Tuesday called for a federal criminal investigation of former Rep. Liz Cheney for possible “criminal witness tampering” with a star witness while serving as vice chairman of the since-disbanded House select committee that investigated the 2021 Capitol riot.

Cheney (R-Wyo.) and Cassidy Hutchinson, a first-term White House aide to then-President Donald Trump, communicated via the encrypted Signal app before her explosive and later largely debunked public testimony in June 2022, according to documents previously released by House Republicans.

Citing those communications, the Committee on House Administration’s Subcommittee on Oversight on Tuesday issued an interim report calling for the Justice Department to investigate Cheney as Trump prepares to retake the White House.

Alyssa Farah – ‘Did you help Liz Chaney get Cassidy Hutchinson to change her testimony? Did you know that witness tampering is a federal crime?’

MJTruthUltra – Cassidy Hutchinson LIED to have drafted a handwritten note for Trump on Jan 6. Cassidy Hutchinson LIED about the classification of status of documents to disparage Mark Meadows. Liz Chaney and Cassidy Hutchinson worked wrongfully to disbar Stefan Passantino.

Mollie Hemingway...“The new Congressional report on Liz Chaney’s unethical behavior is the J6 Show Trial also notes how Cassiddy Huchinson lied abut so many things, including about me illegally obtaining classified information from Mark Meadows. Everything she said about me was false.”

We're talking about this sort of thing, the injustice of which is obvious, particularly if it had never been discovered:

It's completely disgusting. And if one inch of it is true, yes, she ought to face justice to explain herself.

Right now, she is whimpering that President Trump (who had nothing to do with this congressional report) is "vindictive." Apparently, he's supposed to take her efforts to destroy him in stride.

Doesn't work that way. But she's happy to keep lecturing us about 'democracy.'

What it shows is just how big a hypocrite this appalling former conservative really is, doing herself the sorts of things she accused others of doing.

Let justice run its course.
